

GRUNAU METALS

THE CUTTING EDGE

Made in Milwaukee

Circonix Technologies manufacturers and refurbishes massive web handling equipment used by companies in the packaging, coating and printing industries as well as those that convert large rolls of paper, film or foil to smaller rolls. Recently they needed a fabricator to manufacture nearly 500 parts for a humongous machine they were building and they turned to Grunau Metals to help. Grunau stepped up to the plate and fabricated all of the parts on time and within budget. You might not think of Grunau Metals as a job shop, especially for lots of threaded and countersunk machined parts, but think again. Grunau's capacity and technical wherewithal let's them fabricate and machine nearly any conceivable item out of metal.
