

March 21, 2017

On March 18, 2017, thirteen Grunau employees once again joined the Fight for Air Climb to help raise awareness of healthy lungs and healthy air. The annual climb was held at the US Bank tower in Milwaukee, the tallest building in Wisconsin, where participants climbed 47 floors and 1,034 steps to get to the top.

This year, Grunau's team raised $1289 in funds for the American Lung Association, reaching beyond their goal of $1000. Milwaukee is proud to be the country's largest Fight for Air Climb with news sources stating both total number of participants and funds raised in 2017 were the largest of all the cities who participated.
